4.2. Results System

- Qualification Round - scoring will be completed by athletes. One athlete records, on the official paper based score sheet, the scores of all other athletes on that target. At the same time, another athlete, on that same target, will enter all the scores of the athletes on that target into the scoring tablet. The other athletes should verify that all scores are written and entered correctly.
- Scorecards MUST be signed by both the athlete and the scorer, have all the totals mathematically correct with the 10s+Xs and X count fully completed. Any scorecards where the 10s+Xs and X count are not completed a "0" will be given for the total of 10s+Xs and X count for that athlete. Any score cards not signed or the score total is missing will result in disqualification.
- Elimination Round – scoring will be completed by athletes. One athlete/team records the arrow values of both athletes/teams on the paper score sheet. While at the same time, the other athlete/team inputs the arrow values into the scoring tablet. Both athletes/teams should verify that all scores are written and entered correctly before returning back to the shooting line.
- At the end of the match, the scorecard must be fully completed and signed by the athletes (or agent/judge in the case of finals) involved in the match.

5.3. Top 8 Things To Do In Antalya

The following is only a short list of the sights and attractions that Antalya has to offer:

- #1 - Imagine chariot races in the preserved stadium of Perge

The countryside surrounding this city is a hotbed of beautiful and historically important monuments and exploring them should rank top of your list of things to do in Antalya – and is enough to keep you busy for days.

The ruins of Perge, the former capital of the Asia Minor region of Pamphylia Secunda, is an incredible example of the Roman architecture that still exists in the area. Most come to see the incredible Great Theatre and the set of two unusual gate-towers that once controlled access to the city.

However, it's the massive stadium, one of the largest and best preserved in the world, that is the most exciting part of any trip to Perge. Built to accommodate up to 15,000 spectators to watch chariot racing, you've no choice but to sit in the stands and just imagine what it must have been like during one of these epic competitions.

- #2 - Or visit the ancient ruined city of Aspendos

Around 40km from Antalya itself, the remains of the ancient city of Aspendos are another worthy day trip. The most incredible sight is the theatre, which dates from between 160-180 A.D. and is the best-preserved theatre of its kind in the world.

What's great is that you can actually explore this monument, climbing up the wide rows of seating to stand on the very top step and experience what it must have been like to watch a performance here, an event researchers believe to have been attended by up to 8,000 people.

A short distance away you can also peer up on awe at the looming aqueducts that once provided the city with water from the nearby mountains.

- #3 - Do go chasing waterfalls

A short boat trip or drive around the coast of Antalya is the best way of arriving at the region's most popular natural attraction: the Duden Waterfalls, two impressive falls fed by a river that runs all the way from the Taurus Mountains to terminate in the Mediterranean Sea.

The Lower Duden crashes down the cliff face into the water and is best viewed from onboard a ship, while the Upper Duden, 15km outside of Antalya, can be reached by car or local bus.

The latter falls have carved a deep gorge out of the rock as well as a cave that cuts behind the veil of water. You can actually wander around through the cave for an unusual perspective on these mammoth waterfalls.

- #4 - Explore Kaleici, Antalya's old town

Tucked back from the limestone cliffs that edge the main harbour, Kaleici, Antalya's Old Town has been well-preserved by the Turkish authorities and makes for an excellent relaxed afternoon in the city.

Here, Roman ruins rub shoulders with elegant mosques, including the Yivli Minare Mosque, a beautiful building easily recognized by its huge, 13th-century minaret that towers over the surrounding area.

In and around Kaleici there are also plenty of tiny shops and market halls for buying souvenirs and even a Turkish carpet! You'll also have no choice but to stop at one of the many relaxed street-side cafes and the Antalya Archaeological Museum for a spot of culture.

- #5 - Hit the rapids on an adrenaline-fueled rafting tour

Around 90km away from Antalya is one of Turkey's top white water rafting spots: Koprulu Canyon National Park. Home to the longest canyon in the country, this park is also an incredible spot for white water rafting and one of the top adventurous things to do in Antalya.

Crash through everything from Class I (beginner) through to VI (expert) rapids as you power down the picturesque Koprü River, passing through forests of pine, cypress and cedar trees that might even offer a glimpse of foxes, wolves or even bears.

You can also pitch up beside the river in campgrounds if you plan to spend more than an afternoon in the park.

- #6 - Chill out on one of Antalya's beaches or luxury resorts

The coastline stretching away from Antalya is renowned for being an area of incredible natural beauty, with a whole host of beaches where you can go to chill out and catch some rays.

Konyaalti and Lara are the main beaches accessible from the city; Konyaalti extends 7km west, while Lara is on the eastern side of town and is close to some of the area's glitziest holiday resorts.

If you want to escape the crowds, Kaputaş, a three-hour drive from Antalya, is a far more low-key affair which is perfect for windsurfers and just getting away from the city.

- #7 - Get your hiking boots on for the Lycian Way

Although part of the fun of visiting Turkey is gorging yourself on its delicious local cuisine or kicking back on a beach, there comes a time when you need to get up and burn off all those calories. Luckily, the Lycian Way, a 540km path that reaches all the way to Fethiye, a city further west along the coast, starts right outside of Antalya.

Traversing stretches of Turkish countryside filled with ancient relics and offering panoramic views of both sea and mountains, the 29-day Lycian Way is the most adventurous method of exploring the Turkish coast and is often named one of the world's top long-distance hikes.

If you've not got a month to spare, with the whole route clearly indicated with red and white painted stripes, you can easily hike a shorter stretch. One amazing town to visit is Olympos, which makes a great launching off point for the Lycian Way.

- #8 - Have lunch overlooking the Old Harbour

Founded two thousand years ago as a port town, Antalya has grown around this dock and nowadays it's where yachts are parked and where you can take a boat around the coastline to visit the waterfalls.

Perched above the cliffs and all around the harbour are a series of restaurants serving up fresh fish and other typical Turkish dishes.
