President's News

IOC Status

World Archery President Prof Dr Ugur Erdener, who has been a member of the International Olympic Committee since 2008, had his IOC membership status switched from international federation president to individual member at the Session in Pyeongchang on 7 February 2018. This means his IOC position is no longer reliant on his position as World Archery President. Prof Dr Erdener has been World Archery President since 2005 and was re-elected for a fourth consecutive term at the federation's Congress in Mexico City in 2017.

Congress

Minutes

The minutes of the 52nd World Archery Congress that was held in Mexico City in October 2017 are being finalised and will be available on 5 March 2018.

World Archery Oceania

Development Agent

Robert Turner started in a new role with World Archery as development agent for Oceania on 1 February 2018 as part of a joint initiative between World Archery and Global Sport Development to focus archery's growth objectives across the continent. The 36-year-old Australian-born coach, who lives in Auckland, New Zealand, was previously a semi-professional archer with the Australian Institute of Sport, competing regionally and internationally before gaining coaching credentials with New Zealand, USA, Australia and Chinese Taipei.

International Olympic Committee

Athlete365

Unifying all the IOC's athlete-focused initiatives, the new brand Athlete365 has been created by athletes, for athletes, to support them on their journey to the Games, and beyond the sporting arena. First teased at the 8th IOC International Athletes' Forum in Lausanne in November 2017, the platform forms a vital part of the IOC Athletes' Commission's new strategy.

Events

Hyundai World Cup Final 2018

World Archery has announced Samsun in Turkey as host of the 2018 Hyundai Archery World Cup Final on 29/30 September. After Istanbul in 2011, it will be the second time the nation hosts the season-ending event. Located on the north coast next to the Black Sea, Samsun joins a long list of iconic hosts of the Hyundai Archery World Cup Final. The 13th season of the annual international circuit will conclude in the historic Turkish city.

Las Vegas 2018

Jesse Broadwater took an historic third consecutive victory at the Indoor Archery World Cup Final, beating countryman Kris Schaff in the final in the South Point Hotel, Casino and Spa. "I'm happy that I came away with the win, but I do think I could have shot even better. I felt like I left a lot of points out there that I shouldn't have," he said. Lisa Unruh, Han Jaeyeop and Alexandra Savenkova also took gold medals.

Vegas Shoot 2018

The compound open championship shootdown came down to a face-off between Bob Eyler and Lucky Dog Christopher Perkins, as US archers Eyler and Alexis Ruiz took the top two titles at the 52nd edition of The Vegas Shoot, which concluded on 11 January 2018. "Dream come true. Archery-related, that's my dream come true," said first-time winner Eyler, who hadn't shot the event for six years. "If there's any tournament I could choose to win, this would be it."

World Archery Americas

A coaching mission was conducted in the British Virgin Islands on 8-18 January 2018. US Coach Phil Graves, a member of World Archery Development Committee, paid a very fruitful visit with the purpose of assisting and supporting the recovery of the BVI Archery Federation after hurricane Irma. The focus was on the archers and their preparation to compete in the Central American and Caribbean Games Qualifier.

“In the development area, schools are engaged and working closely with the BVI Federation to bring Olympic Style Archery to their student population,” Graves commented.

Middle East

With the support of the Olympic Solidarity, the Lebanese Archery Federation and Lebanese Olympic Committee conducted a level 1 coaching course on 12-20 February 2018 in Beirut. Pascal Colmaire, World Archery Development and Education Director, was missioned to train the participants from Lebanon and Syria, who intend to teach archery at school. Development

Nigeria

A new club called Lekki Archers has officially been launched on 3 February 2018 in Nigeria at Pine School in Lekki. Established by two Nigerians based in UK, it's also running some television campaigns for awareness on national TV stations. The first club of its kind in Nigeria can use an indoor range within the school facilities, and already many people are embracing the sport.

International Day of Sport for Development and Peace

April 6 was declared the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace by the United Nations General Assembly in 2013 with the support of the International Olympic Committee and has been celebrated each year ever since 2014. This day provides an annual opportunity to celebrate the power of sport to drive social change, community development, to encourage equity and inclusion and to foster peace and understanding between individuals, communities and nations.

Getting mobilised this day means sharing the vision that sport can help to change the world. It means joining a global community committed to take big or small actions on this day. Once individuals or organisations have decided their action, it is important to register it on www.april6.org to be part of the global network.

World Archery asks all member associations to give feedback of any activities that they might have planned on that special day.
