

INTERPRETATIONS
WORLD ARCHERY CONSTITUTION AND RULES

Book 4, Article 23.3.1

The Danish Archery Federation has requested an interpretation as to the number of arrows to shoot and be scored under the following language (Book 4, Article 23.3.1, bullet one): “two arrows per animal-target are allowed in the qualification rounds”.

The Constitution and Rules Committee (“C&R”) finds the question presented to be within the terms of reference of the Field Archery Committee.

C&R has determined that the following interpretation is not contrary to the existing rules or Congress decisions.

Response from the Field Archery Committee:

It is the decision of the Field Archery Committee that the language “two arrows per animal-target are allowed in the qualification rounds” requires the athlete to shoot two arrows and that both arrows are scored.

Accordingly, Book 4, Article 23.3.1 (bullet one) should be interpreted to read as follows:

- two arrows per animal-target are allowed in the qualification round, both scoring full value.
